Riesling

Riesling is an aromatic variety that produces intensely fragrant and flavoured wines. Notes of citrus, honeysuckle, blossoms, green apple and mineral are commonly seen. Today, Rieslings are invariably made as dry styles, making them suitable for serving as aperitifs matching beautifully with shellfish and citrus sauces and vinaigrettes. Aged styles show oily honeyed character matching well with mushrooms and truffles.

Pinot Grigio / Pinot Gris

One grape variety showing two very different styles. With a big mouthfeel, Pinot gris from Alsace has a delicately perfumed aroma with flavours of fresh pear, cream and musk. Originally from Italy, Pinot Grigio displays crisp acidity and lemon freshness. In both styles, there is an attractive mineral element that adds complexity. Grigio goes well with oysters, shellfish and white fish whereas the richer wine Gris, suits salmon and white meats.

Sauvignon Blanc

Sauvignon Blanc is used to make fresh, vibrant wine styles with none of the heaviness of Chardonnay or the floral tones of Riesling. Its flavour profile is in harmony with Semillon and consequently these varieties are often blended together. The flavour spectrum of Sauvignon Blanc is quite diverse. Upon a backbone of herbaceousness lie tropical fruit, passionfruit and gooseberry. Look a little closer and you may see tomato leaf, spice and flint. The stronger styles have elements of asparagus, capsicum and gun smoke. The occasional use of barrel fermentation, lees stirring and time in oak gives these wines texture and added complexity.

Chardonnay

The base flavour of Chardonnay is generous. Flavours such as ripe peach, fig and melon are common. In cooler climates, the structure is tighter and leaner with flavours of lemon, grapefruit and green apple. Secondary characters of nuts, toast and vanilla come from oak contact with butteriness coming from fermentation.

White meats in cream sauces and lighter game marry beautifully with Chardonnay.

Pinot Noir

Wines made from Pinot Noir are typically lightly coloured with cherry to plum red hues. The aroma, which is often highly fragrant, can be composed of cherries, red berries, violets and spice when young, transforming into gamey, leathery, mushroomy characters with age. Drink Pinot Noir with game birds, confits and mushroom dishes.

Cabernet Sauvignon & Cabernet Blends

In cooler climates, minty and leafy characters are intermingled with blackcurrant and red berries. In warmer climates, chocolate and tobacco characters express themselves. As these wines mature, barnyard characters, dark chocolate and port are evident. Common underlying characters in Cabernet are drying, mouth puckering tannins. Cabernet is often blended with Merlot. Drink Cabernet dominant wines with fuller flavoured meat cuts or red wine braises or sauce reductions and hard cheeses.

Shiraz

Long regarded in Australia as the heavyweight of all grape varieties, Shiraz can be anything but! Showing aromas of white pepper, eucalyptus, tar and Chinese five spice and a palate of blackberry, plums, licorice and chocolate with supple tannins. A very diverse grape variety with food from grilled meats of all varieties to rich meat sauces.
